

DWG INTERNATIONAL™ introduces new
ULTRA-ION™ GREEN All-Purpose Cleaner
Super Concentrate featuring exclusive PolyGuard-8™

DWG now offers even more opportunities to expand your business!

Nearly two decades ago, a new idea was launched to the public in the form of a “waterless” car care product called Dri Wash ‘n Guard®. The idea behind this revolutionary product was to allow the consumer to clean, seal, polish and protect their vehicle all in one easy step without using a drop of water. Even before the world was looking to conserve water, Dri Wash ‘n Guard® created a new waterless car care industry that allowed everyone who used the product to participate in water conservation.

Twenty years later, the “GREEN” movement has encompassed the world and now everyone is looking to conserve the earth’s resources while using products that are more environmentally friendly. This “movement” has now grown to a multi-billion dollar a year industry. If offered an environmentally safe product that will clean as effectively as their current ones do, most consumers will take the product that helps to conserve the environment. The U.S. consumer will spend an excessive amount of time cleaning their home...trying to make them safe from “all those germs” and all the while we do this while using products that are full of harmful chemicals. Back in 1991 it was stated in “Prosperity without Pollution” that the average American uses about 25 gallons of toxic products per year in their home.

Thankfully, manufacturers have come a long way since 1991 and now after years in research and development, DWG International™ is proud to expand its environmental vision by providing a new biodegradable liquid cleaner that provides a safer solution to your general cleaning needs. In fact, if you can put water on it, ULTRA-ION™ GREEN will safely clean it while replacing all your other common household cleansers. ULTRA-ION™ GREEN will effectively clean:
